HAMILTON, WALTERS ARRESTED IN DALLAS WITHOUT TROUBLE

TEXAS GUNMEN WHO TERRORIZED WIDE AREAS NOW HELD IN JAIL

DALLAS, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Victims of at least nine robberies were on hand today to confront captured Floyd Hamilton and Ted Walters, Southwest desperadoes brought meekly to bay here yesterday.

Police pumped the long-sought pair while waiting the arrival of Arkansas officers who also wanted to pin several robberies in their state on them.

Hamilton and Walters took their capture in good humor, laughing with their guards and cell visitors. Walters, whose criminal career started with chicken thievery, told officers it would have been a different story if he had a gun.

Hamilton, thin, ragged and penniless, blamed his career of roving banditry on the excessive number of crimes "they tried to pin on me."

Their meek surrender here yesterday belied their reputations as hold gunmen for whom officers in seven states have searched since spring languished contentedly in jail today while police built up cases against them.

City detectives, who captured the pair early Sunday after Hamilton had wiggled out of a federal trap said no charges had been filed this morning.

Federal Action Held Up.

Federal bureau of investigation agents said federal action was being held up while the state pumped the pair on holdups and other crimes attributed to them. FBI Agent Frank Blake had no comment to make on reports Hamilton received a load of shot in his ankle Saturday night when he met G-men in the dark and rap.

Walters and Hamilton—Floyd is a brother of the late Raymond Hamilton, executed several years ago after a well-publicized career of crime—were brought to bay after officers of Illinois, Arkansas, Louisiana, Tennessee, Oklahoma, Iowa and Texas had joined in the hunt.

Coming back home brought their downfall. Hamilton, 30, and Walters, 25, were trying to reestablish contact with old-time friends when officers took them without a struggle.

Escaped from jail. They escaped from the Montague county jail at Montague, Texas, last April. Since then they have been sought in connection with numerous robberies in the Southwest and the Middle West. They were arrested here yesterday, unarmed and almost penniless. Hamilton had a buckshot wound in his left leg and was nabbed as he hobbled along a railroad right-of-way near the pair's hideout.

A negro who gave his name as Willie Marshall was arrested a few hours earlier when officers saw him lurking near Hamilton's west Dallas home.

Walters told officers that the negro boarded a freight train on which they were riding at Marshall, Tex., and that they made their headquarters here at the negro's home. Walters was surrounded and arrested near the hideout.

Fifty per cent of the robberies and hi-jackings attributed to them were committed by others, Walters declared.

Hamilton denied participating in the machine-gun robbery of a Woodruff, Ill., bank messenger Aug. 6, when $45,000 was taken. "I wished I had," Detective

Hundred-Degree Weather In Many Parts of Texas

DALLAS, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Hundred-plus temperatures were reported common in Texas yesterday. The northwestern section of the state appeared hardest hit, with Clarendon, Henrietta and Seymour reporting 104-degree weather.

Other hot spot were Wichita Falls, 102 degrees, and Beville and Alice, 100.

The weatherman said another hot day was in prospect for today.

RUN-OFF PRIMARY PLANS COMPLETED SATURDAY VOTING

CORSICANA SUN AND LIGHT WILL TABULATE AND ANNOUNCE RETURNS

Final plans have been made for the run-off democratic primary election Saturday in Corsicana. The election will be held at the Corsicana Sun and Light building, which will tabulate and announce the returns.

There are several county and precinct races attracting attention, but the voters apparently are not as interested in the runoff as they were in the first primary election. The hotly-contested and spectacular gubernatorial race, however, in the first campaign caused much interest.

Little interest had been shown in this county, if the absentee balloting is to be taken as a criterion, until Governor Designate W. Lee O'Daniel several days ago came out with his slate of state run-off favorites. Since that time the office of Lonnie L. Dwyer, county clerk, has been flooded with voters.

Whether the voters are voting as O'Daniel asked or whether they are bolting is a question, but from what some of the absentee ballots show, the voters within hearing of courthouse attaches and newspaper reporters, there are many O'Danielites who are not coming down the line for the gubernatorial nomination.

To Tabulate Returns.

The Corsicana Daily Sun and Semi-Weekly Morning Light, associated press papers, will tabulate and announce the returns of the run-off primary election as they did for the first primary. The returns will be filed on a screen in front of the Sun building and will be announced over a loud-speaker arrangement. Returns from the state races will be brought to the Sun building by a full-time Texas Election Bureau wire and will be augmented by regular Associated Press dispatches during the night.

Election authorities have been urged to telephone the results of their boxes (collect) to the Daily Sun Saturday night. The newspaper will tabulate complete county returns on election night. A complete tabulation is impossible unless all forty-eight election boxes have been reported.

The regular speaking tour has been carried out by those candidates still in the run-off campaign, but they have been busy with the political scene and campaigning in all sections of the county.

County Races.

Races involved with a local and state election are the contest between Sheriff Rufus Pevehouse and C. O. (Cap) Curington; district clerk—R. A. Caldwell.

MARSHALL DECLARES O'DANIEL SERIOUS ON PENSION PLANS

NOMINEE DETERMINED PAY OLD FOLKS WHAT THE LAW ALLOWS

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL. FORT WORTH, Aug. 22.—(AP)—A high-powered microscope isn't necessary to discover that W. Lee O'Daniel is deadly serious about this business of paying the old folks of Texas the full amount of pensions allowed by the law.

If anyone has thought that the democratic nominee for governor was sounding off only for his own election purposes on the proposition of going the limit in old-age assistance, he might give the matter further consideration. Friends of O'Daniel and newspapermen who have observed him closely since his sensational victory July 23 say he may not know all the details of how it is to be done but he has made up his mind it is practicable to do and intends to find a way.

Just now he isn't giving a great deal of attention to it. The big aim in his life at present is to help elect the candidates for state office whom he has said he preferred and regarded as essential in carrying out his legislative program.

With the August 27 primary out of the way, he intends to begin an intensive study of all the problems which he undertook to solve when he announced for the office of governor. He has asked for by the voters the responsibility and is not dismayed at the prospect.

He announced the other day payment of old age pensions in full was going to be the paramount bit of business which he would lay before the legislature next January. The announcement was in a radio speech.

When the speech was handed to press correspondents a short time before the public delivery, the text, which had been typed out by O'Daniel personally and was interlined here and there with corrections, did not contain the words "in full." A correspondent raised a question as to O'Daniel's exact meaning.

"Here, I'll fix it," O'Daniel said quickly. "Give me a pen. We'll do that right now."

And the words "in full" went into the speech.

Many Bills.

Probably half a hundred bills, maybe a lot more, have already been written in country law offices all over the state, expounding on how the new pension law should read. On the second or third day of the general legislative session, they will fall into the hoppers of house and senate like leaves from the trees before an early blizzard.

And a bill which finally is sent to the governor, if any is sent and if the usual processes of law making are followed, will be the result of a long and arduous process of amputation and dissection, in both house and senate committees, and on both house and senate floors.

Salvatore Costa, spokesman of the legislature, said it is anything to the story, it illustrated the point. O'Daniel means business about making good on his pledge for full payment of pensions.

COUPLE OF FRENCH CABINET MEMBERS RESIGN POSITIONS

CRISIS COMES OVER PREMIER DALADIER'S PLAN TO SCRAP 40-HOUR WEEK

PARIS, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Two of Premier Edouard Daladier's cabinet ministers resigned suddenly today, bringing on a crisis over the Premier's plan to abolish the 40-hour week in French industry.

Ludovic Frossard, minister of public works, and Paul Ramadier, minister of labor, gave up their posts in a surprise move.

The Premier met the threat of his ministry's life by patching up his cabinet within two hours, naming Deputy Anatole De Monzie, his close friend, minister of public works and Deputy Charles Pomaret, minister of labor.

Both new ministers belong to the same party as those who resigned, the small socialist union group, more conservative than but closely allied with the larger socialist party, chiefly responsible for enactment of the 40-hour law in 1936.

Although the Premier must face a determined assault from the extreme left parties when parliament reconvenes in November, he has managed to replace Frossard and Ramadier, intended to remove any immediate danger of his fall.

Some Balance Retained.

Presence in the cabinet of De Monzie and Pomaret, whose names Daladier submitted to President Albert Lebrun—a move equivalent to confirmation—assured the Premier of the same delicate balance of parties which has held his ministry firm since it was formed.

There was no official explanation of the resignations, but Ramadier's friends said he had reproached Daladier because the Premier had not informed him in advance of his speech last night announcing his intention of scrapping the 40-hour week.

In his speech Daladier pointed out the danger to France in the present international crisis and declared that hours of labor, especially in the defense industries, must be increased.

Polish circles recalled that Reichsfuehrer Hitler moved into Austria in the midst of the French cabinet crisis of last March which eventually brought Daladier himself to power.

The stock exchange greeted Daladier's move to end the 40-hour week enthusiastically and despite the cabinet changes government bond and franc showed substantial gains over previous closing quotations.

The franc closed at 36.50 to the dollar.

FUGITIVES FINALLY NABBED

Penniless and dog tired after eluding Southwest Poses for weeks, Ted Walters, left, and Floyd Hamilton, fugitives from a Texas jail, were finally nabbed by Dallas officers Sunday. Walters, walking along a downtown street with only a few pennies in his pockets, was quietly captured while Hamilton, favoring a bullet wound in his leg, was found in the Trinity river bottoms as he hunted for a freight train to carry him along his fleeing trail. MAVERICK REFUSED PLACE ON TICKET AS INDEPENDENT

PETITION SIGNED BY MORE THAN FIVE HUNDRED SEEK PLACE FOR HIM

AUSTIN, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Secretary of State Edward Clark today overruled a petition of friends of Congressman Maury Maverick of San Antonio that his name be printed on the ballot as an independent candidate for congress in November.

Clark held that Maverick, a strong supporter of President Roosevelt, could not run as an independent because he participated in the democratic primary.

FORMER PRESIDENT ANTI-WAR LEAGUE CAUSES SENSATION

CRIPPLING OF U. S. MUNITIONS PLANTS AND ARMY MUTINY OBJECTIVES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Dr. J. B. Matthews told a house committee today that one of the aims of The American League Against War and Fascism was to cripple American munition industries and bring on mutiny in the army in case of war between the United States and Soviet Russia.

Matthews, a writer and lecturer, who described himself as a disillusioned "fellow traveler" with the communists, was the first president of the League.

He told the house committee investigating un-American activities that when the League was organized in 1932 communists "fully expected an American-Soviet war." Last winter the League was rechristened the League for Peace and Democracy, but Matthews said its program remained the same. Eight government employees were listed as members of the League in testimony before the committee last week.

Matthews also related the communists tried to enter any major party dispute, or "purge," and were trying to destroy the Democratic party as a step toward "a Soviet America."

He said that at the first League congress the platform adopted pledged "League Platform."

To work towards the stopping of the manufacture and transport of munitions and all other material essential to the conduct of war, through mass demonstrations, picketing and strikes.

To expose everywhere the extensive preparations for war being carried on under the guise of aiding national recovery.

To oppose the policies of American imperialism in the Far East, in Latin-America, especially in Cuba, and throughout the world, support the peace policies of the Soviet Union for total and universal disarmament.

Matthews asserted he was a former "inside worker" for the communists.

He testified that communist leaders expressed gratification that they "had several strategic men in important plants and industries where they would be in a position to sabotage vital war production." United States should become involved in a war against the Soviet.

Felt Sure of Bridges.

The communists, he said, were confident they could control Harry Bridges, West Coast leader, and that he "would be able to paralyze shipping on the West Coast."

He told the committee that it was "the deliberate aim" of the communists to "disintegrate" the democratic party by driving a wedge between its so-called "liberal wing" and its so-called "conservative wing."

The communist party can hope to advance far toward its revolutionary goal, it understands, and rightly, that there must be a sweeping realignment of the WPA forces in this country," he said.

"That alignment is sought at the price of the very existence of the democratic party. Out of chaos of the democratic party's destruction, it is expected that a national farmer-labor party would emerge.

PRIMARY ELECTIONS DURING NEXT MONTH TO SHOW WHETHER ROOSEVELT PURGE BE SUCCESS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Primary elections in the next month will determine the success or failure of President Roosevelt's first efforts to oust un-friendly democratic congressmen.

Although this year's primaries are more than half over, major party nominees are yet to be chosen in 22 states. In 16 of these, senatorial candidates are to be selected.

The chief interest at this time centers on three races, those of Senators George in Georgia and Madings in Maryland and of Rep. O'Connor in New York, because Mr. Roosevelt has asked the democratic voters not to renominate them.

The first of the trio to come before the voters will be Tydings. The Maryland primary will be held Sept. 12. Georgia follows on the 14th, and New York ballots for representatives on the 20th.

TWO KILLED, MANY INJURED AS RESULT WRECK IN SUBWAY

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Two men were killed and from 30 to 50 other persons were injured today in a collision between two subway trains on the East Side Lexington avenue line.

The two trains, both southbound, were filled with hundreds of passengers, mostly residents of the Bronx on their way to work in downtown offices.

Near-panic swept the crowded trains when the lights went out and a short circuit started a fire. Salvadore Costa, spokesman of the second train, was jammed in his tiny cab when it crashed against the rear coach of the front train.

He was still alive an hour later when rescuers cut their way through the twisted steel and began pulling the bodies of the dead and injured from the wreckage. However, when the twisted steel had been completely cut through, no additional dead were found.

BID FOR HUNGARIAN FRIENDSHIP MADE AT CRUISER LAUNCHING

By LOUIS F. LOCHNER. KIEL, Germany, Aug. 22.—(AP)—The latest addition to Germany's re-built navy—the 10,000-ton heavy cruiser Prince Eugene—was launched today at impressive ceremonies in connection with the state visit of the Hungarian regent, Admiral Nicholas Horthy.

Practically everybody with rank and title had been mobilized to witness the ceremonies, the beauty of which was enhanced by bright sunshine and the colorful picture of uniforms and smart ladies' dresses.

The new cruiser glided into the water after a dedicatory speech by Arthur Seyss-Inquart, governor of Austria, and christening by Mme. Horthy.

Paying tribute to Chancellor Adolf Hitler as the man who completed the Middle Europe which other great Germans have striven for, Seyss-Inquart observed with a clear bid for Hungarian friendship.

MORE TROUBLES IN EUROPEAN NATIONS AS NEW WEEK OPENS

By The Associated Press. France faced a new internal crisis today as the rift in European-wide over insurgent Spain's rejection of a plan for withdrawal of foreign fighters and German bid for sway over the Danubian basin.

Two French ministers, Ludovic Frossard, minister of public works, and Paul Ramadier, minister of labor, suddenly resigned.

No official reasons for the ministers' resignations were given but they followed Premier Edouard Daladier's announcement last night that he intended to scrap France's 40-hour week.

Financial and production difficulties were given by the premier in a nation-wide broadcast last night as his reasons for advocating longer working hours, particularly in defense industries.

HOPKINS CRITICIZES REPORTED RAISING OF CAMPAIGN FUNDS FROM NEW YORK RELIEF FOLK

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Aug. 22.—(AP)—Harry Hopkins, the WPA administrator, expressed sharp criticism today of a reported effort by the Workers Alliance to raise campaign funds from New York relief workers.

Hopkins discussed with newsmen reports that the Alliance was seeking to raise $50,000 with which to fight Representative John J. O'Connor's sharp administration critic who is seeking renomination in New York.

Hopkins spent the night with President Roosevelt at the summer White House here.

He told reporters today that the Workers Alliance, an organization of WPA workers, "has perfect legal right" to ask funds from WPA workers. But he added:

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR J. R. HAWTHORN SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Funeral services for J. R. Hawthorn, aged 65 years, civic, financial, and religious leader at Streetman for many years, were held at 3 o'clock with interment in the Birdston cemetery. Mr. Hawthorn was fatally injured in an automobile collision near Streetman into Friday. His death was the twelfth auto fatality in Navarro county this year.

A native of Missouri, Mr. Hawthorn had resided in the Streetman community for 51 years. He had operated a gin for the past 20 years in addition to his farm interests and was a director of the Streetman State Bank. He was a director of the Baptist Orphanage at Waxahachie and long had been prominent in Baptist circles. He was a member of the W. O. W. Lodge.

The rites were conducted by Rev. W. H. Day, Waxahachie Baptist minister, assisted by Rev. O. F. Barton, pastor of the Streetman Baptist church.

Surviving are his wife, two brothers, J. A. Hawthorn and C. K. Hawthorn, all of Streetman, and a number of nieces and nephews.

Palbearers were the following: V. V. Bradley, Oklahoma; T. A. McElwee, Fairfield; Will Harmon, C. E. Kelley, Harold Dunkerly and Tom Salter, all of Sugarland.

Honorary pallbearers were friends of the family. Sutherland-McCammon Funeral Home directed the arrangements.

Sadler Greeted By Enthusiastic Crowd Saturday

Jerry Sadler, candidate for railroad commissioner, spoke to an enthusiastic crowd at the intersection of East Collin and South Commerce streets Saturday afternoon.

After presenting his claims and qualifications, the East Texas attorney launched into a bitter and caustic denunciation of his political opponents, some of whom he charged with making false affidavits, circulating falsehoods, and even making personal attacks. He recalled several instances recently when he was assaulted following his addresses.

It was learned that Sadler has three commissioned officers with him, one a Texas Ranger, as a body guard, and he was closely watched by his officers and city police here Saturday afternoon as he mingled with the crowd shaking hands following his address. Claiming he was the champion of the poor and old people and pointing out that some of those making affidavits and charges against him had been convicted by him in the court for felonies, Sadler declared he would continue his fight against the monopolistic conditions. He predicted victory Saturday in the run-off primary election.

The candidate was accompanied by his string band and spoke from his sound truck.

THE BOYCE MARTINS RETURN FROM OZARK MOUNTAINS CAMP

Mr. and Mrs. Boyce Martin and two children, Martha and Boyce, Jr., returned Sunday night from a two weeks visit on Mount Sequoyah, just outside the city of Fayetteville, Ark., in the Ozark mountains.

Mount Sequoyah is a Methodist camp, well located and equipped. The annual leadership school was under way during their stay. Mount Sequoyah operates from July 1 until September 1, with different Methodist organizations meeting during this period.

Mr. Martin was elected president of the Texas Sequoyah Club and Mrs. Martin was a member of the choir. During the meeting the annual board meeting was held. Rev. Sam Yancy was re-elected superintendent and Bishop C. C. Sealeman was elected president of the board. The Central Texas conference was represented by Rev. Joe Patterson, a former Corsicana pastor, but now pastor at Cisco.

Superintendent Yancy's report was the best ever made for the camp. There is not one dime of indebtedness against the place, valued at over $250,000; a new $3,000 superintendent's home has been completed and many items of improvements and enlargements are planned for the coming year. The attendance that year has been the best since 1930. The camp is 15 years old.

O'DANIEL RECEIVES MANY SUGGESTIONS ON STATE FINANCES

SAYS MOST WANT COLLECT
FROM 'OTHER FELLOW';
OPPOSES SALES TAX

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL
FORT WORTH, Aug. 22.—(P)—

W. Lee O'Daniel, democratic nominee for governor, said today suggestions on how to finance his old age pension program were pouring in upon him but as yet he had been unable to study them thoroughly.

"One thing seems to stand out about those suggestions," he said. "Most provide for getting the money from the other fellow."

He said he hoped to give more time to the matter of pension financing and other problems of government after the run-off democratic primary Saturday.

He specifically mentioned a state income tax for the first time, saying he had given no thought to such a levy.

In several recent sessions of the legislature, an income tax has been proposed, but has met little favor. The general attitude in the legislature seems to have been that the federal government already has taken over that field of taxation.

O'Daniel said the citizens of Texas were reconciled to the fact that payment of old age pensions was a "just debt" and "must be paid."

The legislature would recognize this and find ways and means of meeting the obligation of the state tax, including a tax on luxuries.

He reiterated that he was opposed to a general retail sales tax, but did not respond to questions concerning other forms of the sales tax.

Even as O'Daniel spoke of the sales tax, members of the Texas Retail Grocers Association were gathering in Fort Worth for consideration of the controversial subject.

W. B. Addison of Houston, president, sharply condemned the tax, declaring its sponsors were "big interests" which were "foreign to Texas."

"Such a tax would cost the average merchant $25 to $30 a month extra for bookkeeping in addition to the annoyance it would cause the customers," he said.

O'Daniel again expressed confidence that the candidates whom he has endorsed for lieutenant governor, attorney general, railroad commissioner, land commissioner, judge of the court of criminal appeals and associate justice of the supreme court would be elected.

O'Daniel evinced little interest in a meeting at Dallas Saturday night to protest his endorsements.

"I do not know what their fight is," he said, "but mine is to get for the people of Texas the things promised in the campaign. My big aim is to carry out my campaign promises."

He said he had implicit faith that the candidates for whom he had expressed preferences would stick to their pledges of co-operation.

Former Residents Visit City.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Beene of Taft, Calif., were in the city for a few hours' visit Monday. They are both former residents of the city, being born and reared here. Mrs. Beene was the daughter of the late Jesse B. Jones. Mr. and Mrs. Beene have been on a vacation in the East.

HAMILTON

Inspector Will Fritz quoted Hamilton as saying when he was questioned about various bank robberies. Hamilton, who had $6.24 and two handfuls of 45-caliber pistol cartridges in his pockets, said he never owned a machine gun, but added "I thought one, but never was able to pick it up."

Walters, who was penniless when he was picked up, said Dallas police credited him with about 14 robberies, but that he and Hamilton had nothing to do with 13 of them.

He surrendered without a show of resistance, but if he had been armed, he told officers, "we would have had some fun."

Fritz said the pair would be brought to trial immediately for alleged participation in several small holdups here, and after that they possibly would be turned over to federal authorities.

They arrived in Dallas Friday, they said, after skulking through the rugged country around DeQueen, Ark., for five days where they slipped through a net officers had set.

Hamilton, brother of Raymond Hamilton, who was executed in 1934, was arrested in 1934 on a Texas bank robbery charge, but was never convicted. A year later he received a federal prison sentence for harboring brother Raymond.

Walters got his start in 1930 as an automobile and chicken thief. He once escaped from the state prison system.

Walters Fooled Federal Agents

DALLAS, Aug. 22.—(P)—Ted Walters talked his way out of a trap set by federal officers, it became known today, a few hours before he and his companion in crime, Floyd Hamilton, surrendered without a fight to police yesterday.

Federal men refused to comment but through authoritative police sources came the story that FBI agents Saturday night secreted themselves in a darkened West Dallas house and waited for Hamilton and Walters.

Walters appeared. When the G-men pointed out to him he identified himself as one of "the Wall boys."

The officers questioned him for two hours but did not recognize him—a fact attributed to Walters' emaciated and unkempt condition.

The G-men, the police source, said, instructed Walters to get back in another room and keep quiet while the vigil went on.

When they checked later they found "the Wall boy" had disappeared.

Later a knock at the door brought FBI out of their chairs. When the knocker turned to flee from the door a shotgun was fired at him, striking him in the ankle.

The wounded man, police said, turned out to be Hamilton.

City Detectives Do Work.

Shortly after Walters fled the G-men trap, he was picked up, unarmed and meek, by city detectives. Five hours later detectives spied Hamilton hobbling through the brush toward a freight train.

He, too, surrendered without show of fight.

Meanwhile, Hamilton dropping his meek attitude, announced to newsmen: "They've got me in jail all right, but I'm not going to be here the rest of my life—I'll be back outside again."

Raymond Hamilton, the captive's late notorious brother, talked in a similar vein when he was run to earth several years ago.

Raymond Hamilton boasted "they would never send me to the electric chair. He died in the chair. Arkansas authorities put in a bid for Hamilton and Walters. At Hope, Ark., Prosecutor Ned Stewart communism party would exert every ounce of its influence to use it as a means to the sabotage of the capitalist system of production by placing upon that system burdens of restrictive legislation and enervating taxation."

Matthews said the communists hoped to achieve these ends "by the slogans of social security and unprecedented sums for relief of every conceivable sort" until a collapse of the currency induced a major economic crisis.

"Not only upon the economy's currency but upon every other front of the capitalist system, this incessant sabotage would do its work until finally the system would require a receiver," he continued.

"The communist party would then step in as the most militant, cohesive and highly disciplined minority available to take over the functions of government. Thus would the dictatorship of the proletariat inaugurate a Soviet America."

be prepared for storage, then frozen in a processing plant and placed in individual refrigeration lockers for the producer or the housewife.

The product, put up in attractive packages, may be taken out of the lockers at any time, and prepared for table service according to instructions.

The lockers will be rented by the year or month to anyone desiring them, and all kinds of foods can be preserved in season and used whenever desired.

Several of the plants are in use throughout the United States, and the processed food products are said to be as good as the fresh product.

The new building, in addition to the processing plant and locker rooms, will have a lobby or display room and renters of the lockers, or housewives may purchase processed seasonal products the year around.

H. B. Walker returned recently from visiting a similar plant in Oklahoma City, where he purchased and shipped to his Corsicana friends several packages of fruits, vegetables, meats and seafoods.

art said he would try to get custody of the pair to answer Lafayette county charges of robbing the bank of Bradley, Ark. In that robbery, June 7, $625 was taken.

HOPE, Ark., Aug. 22.—(P)—Prosecutor Ned Stewart of the Eighth judicial district said here today the district would make an effort to obtain custody of Floyd Hamilton and Ted Walters to bring them to trial in Lafayette county on charges of robbing the bank of Bradley, Ark., of $625 on June 7, 1938.

The fugitives, captured at Dallas yesterday, also are listed by Arkansas state police as wanted for the robbery of the bank of Danville, Ark., on May 4, 1938, when $8,000 was taken, and for a theft at Marion, Fayetteville and Ashdown, Ark.

They were also accused of the $100 robbery of the Nashville, Ark., bottling works on Aug. 12.

"We have an open and shut case on the Bradley bank robbery, including identification by people in the bank, fingerprints on a car used in the robbery, and a confession by a third man now held by federal authorities at Dallas," said Stewart.

FARM PROBLEM

ton for possible future better prices.

To prevent accumulation of greater cotton stocks, the government will ask growers to restrict next year's planting to 27,000,000 acres, compared with a normal of 40,000,000, and to continue marketing quotas under which this year's crop is being sold.

Co-operating growers will get benefit payments of between 3.6 and 4 cents a pound.

Wheat.

This year's second largest wheat crop on record, officials said, has placed wheat in almost as serious a situation. Present prospects indicate a record surplus of possibly 40,000,000 bushels a year from now.

Excessive supplies, both at home and abroad, have forced prices to a farm average of about 53 cents a bushel, compared with the "parity" goal of 83 cents and an average farm price of $1.18 a year ago.

To bolster prices and enable growers to hold surplus grain off the market for better prices, the government is providing loans at an average rate of about 60 cents a bushel.

In order to avert greater surpluses, the government is asking growers to plant only 5,000,000 acres for the next year's crop compared to 80,000,000 this year.

Unless farmers co-operate almost 100 per cent, officials said, marketing quotas may have to be invoked on the 1939 crop. Co-operating growers will receive benefit payments of between 26 and 30 cents a bushel.

Prospective corn supplies are only 30,000,000 bushels short of the amount which the new farm law describes as excessive. Consequently, another acreage reduction program is in prospect next year.

Growers were asked to plant 20 per cent less this year. Next year's reduction may be greater. Indications are that the farm law will require the government top provide corn loans in November at a rate of about 58 cents a bushel. Last year's rate was 50 cents.

Other commodities:

Several other commodities face surplus problems. Among them are dairy products, potatoes, and some fruits.

Of all the major crops, tobacco is faring the best.

dollar and 178.55 to the pound, compared to 36.70 and 178.77 Friday.

The Premier confirmed that Frossard and Ramadier resigned because of his speech against the 40-hour week.

"I maintain the declaration I made last night," he said, "that I consider that the nation can be saved only by normal labor, for it is the only nation in Europe which applies the 40-hour week."

Daladier cited as an example the case of a French factory which he said was forced to refuse a 15,000,000-franc ($405,000) order from the United States owing to conditions arising out of the 40-hour week.

Sun Want Ads Bring Results.

To The Voters Of Navarro County—

● I am very grateful for the loyal support given me in the first primary as a candidate for reelection for the second term as your Representative. I hope you will continue to support me and carry out the usual democratic policy of giving a public servant a second term.

● Having had two years of experience in Legislative matters and knowing better than ever before the needs of my County and State, and having improved my program of activities for the future I feel that I am better prepared to make you a sane, safe, conservative and aggressive Representative at Austin. I am for the enforcement of all laws on the statute books of Texas, even though some of the laws could be improved upon which of course is a matter for the Legislature to decide.

● I am for a progressive program for Texas, and will be on the alert to see that there will not be any unfair or unreasonable legislation passed to interfere with or strifle legitimate business, whether it be large or small. I think everything should be done to encourage business in all lines of endeavor, and we should work for more industries in Texas to develop our resources and make more payrolls.

● Being a lifetime farmer and stock raiser I believe I am in a better position to know the needs of the farmer with his many problems, and will always be ready to work for his interests, to make farm life more attractive and worthwhile.

● I am for labor, and all legitimate labor organizations, and will work for their best interests at all times.

● I am for educational advancement and especially anxious to improve rural educational advantages. I am for amending the present State laws regulating "Junior Colleges" in order that Navarro county will be able to establish one of these much needed Colleges somewhere in the County. I am for better pay for public school teachers. I stand for Freedom of the Press, Freedom of Speech and Freedom of Religion and will do everything in my power to protect the Constitution supporting these three great and important pillars supporting our liberties.

● I am for a fair Old Age Pension law and will work for a satisfactory solution of this much needed legislation that the old folks deserve and which will make them happy in their declining years.

● I am in hearty accord with the state highway program, and will support the Highway Commission in its efforts to build permanent highways into the rural sections, thereby bringing the farmers' products closer to the markets.

● I am for the soil conservation program of the State and Federal Government, and will work for rural electrification whereby this much needed convenience will be given to the farmers.

● In the last session of the Legislature I supported the completion of the tick eradication program for Texas. I opposed the abolishment of the department of agriculture and liquor board. I supported the bill for aid for the blind and unfortunate children, and for all of our state institutions.

● I favored and supported legislation for economy in all state departments. I opposed and will oppose a "Sales Tax," and will be careful to give serious consideration to any new taxes.

● I will cooperate with all state departments who advocate a sane, constructive and conservative program.

● I will be sincere in my convictions as to what I think is best for my County and State, and honest and frank in my deliberations, and vote on all issues coming before the Legislature.

● I will not be drawn into silly controversies or unfounded charges which might be brought up to detract attention from the real issues before the people. I realize that there are too many serious and important problems to cooperate with and work out rather than giving time and effort in petty political controversies.

● Space will not permit me to refer to other important issues in my race for reelection for the second term as your Representative, however, I will be glad to discuss with any citizen any matter that will be brought up.

● I am a native of Navarro County; having been born in Chatfield fifty-two years ago, which place I have been living ever since as a farmer and stock raiser. My record among my friends and neighbors will speak for itself.

● With a fine noble wife and four children, two of them married, I have enjoyed the fruits of the soil as a hard working farmer, who during his many years' experience on the farm knows better what the farmer needs; and that what is good for the farmer is good for the general welfare of all concerned.

● My children were educated in the Chatfield school, and we attend and contribute to the Methodist church of our good community.

● My constituents and friends will find me just as hard a worker for their interests in Austin as I am on my farm, and that I am ready at all times to give their problems prompt and serious consideration.

● Surely, a native of Navarro County who has raised a family here and has been a faithful and law abiding citizen, and with many years of actual experience at his disposal, and with two years in the Legislature, is better prepared to be a worthy representative in the Legislature than a young, newcomer, who has only lived in the county for five years, and has never worked on a farm nor knows the needs of the farmer, and has had no Legislative experience of any kind.

● While I have nothing to say against my opponent in this race, at the same time I think that an "old plow horse" like myself will be safer to represent Navarro County in the Legislature than a young ambitious political aspirant, who has many years to live and to serve his community after I am retired or gone to the great beyond.

● There will be plenty of time for him to serve the public after I have served my second term in the Legislature, which I feel I am entitled to on account of my seasoned experience and as an old democratic custom.

● If I took issue with my young opponent in many of his new and untried policies I would be getting away from the real serious issues involved in this race. Just for instance, I am for labor and legitimate organization of labor, and against a sales tax and all forms of gambling, when my young opponent has never stated his position on either of these important questions.

● These are just a few differences of issues involved in this race. Appreciating the continued support of neighbors, friends and voters and assuring you that I will give my best in representing you in the Legislature, and hoping you will follow the customary democratic policy of reelecting a servant of the people for a second term, I am, sincerely,

JULES J. KELT

TRAFFIC MASTERY

The meeting of the National Institute for Traffic Safety Training at the University of Michigan is of interest to every person who uses the public thoroughfares, whether driver, automobile passenger, or pedestrian. That gathering has brought together authorities on traffic problems from nineteen of our own states and from Canada and New Zealand. The 100 men and women there are going into every conceivable phase of the problem, from vision defects to highway construction.

There are practical demonstrations of brakes, headlights, acceleration, etc., incidental to proper traffic control. Problems of daytime and nighttime driving are to be discussed.

There will be technical courses presented on such topics as traffic accident reports and records; traffic safety education in public schools; examinations for drivers licenses; traffic engineering; investigation of accidents, and so on. There are to be talks by authorities on types of traffic accident, the road, the car, the driver, the pedestrian, law enforcement, and school child safety.

Here is a scientific and determined approach to a problem no generation before this has had to face. In so far as it is humanely possible to do so, we are going to make the automobile and the highway serve our business and pleasure without the wholesale slaughter which has marred their development hitherto.

CORRIGAN'S APPEAL

To understand the sudden and immense enthusiasm shown by the American people for Douglas Corrigan, we have to go into the realm of psychology, personal and national.

Personally, Corrigan is Irish; he is human, humorous and whimsical; he is an entirely new type of hero, whom most Americans find very appealing.

Beyond that, isn't he a symbol of American individualism and dare-devilry, defying red tape, rebelling against restraint, refusing to be bottled up, breaking loose and doing what he wants to do, regardless of consequences?

Lindbergh when he reached Paris said quietly, "Well, I did it!" Corrigan when he reached Dublin seemed to say, "Well, what are you going to do about it?" And he gets away with it. It is at once very Irish and very American.

TRANSPLANTED CORNEAS

In an amazing operation a surgeon has now transplanted the corneas from the eyes of a dead woman to the eyes of a sightless preacher and a young pianist. When the surgeon removed the bandages one of his patients says, "I can see your fingers and count them! I can see colors!" The other said, when his turn came, "Things are blurred—reddish. But I can see!"

The doctor believes that this partial sight will gradually become complete vision. Yet even if the experiment remains only partly successful, it holds great promise for countless other sightless persons.

The English government wouldn't admit a blind girl from America unless she gave up her "Seeing Eye"—the German police dog that guides her around. Some American hotels are just as dumb.

JUST FOLKS

(Copyright, 1937, Edgar A. Guest)

QUESTION

If life be merely a series of hunger and thirst
With no time fixed for sleeping and eating
And drinking;
If these be the end of it all, its best
And its worst,
Then why was man fashioned and gifted
For reading and thinking?

Food can be had by the birds of the air
And the beasts of the field for the effort
Of seeking;
Such live unconcerned for the garb
Which they wear.
They're nothing to learn of this
Right word to choose in their speaking.

Well, since all other creatures full
Of spirit attain
In the time that is life, and with
No more to try for,
Why was man made to think and
To fret and to strain
And set for himself goals to seek
And to die for?

YOUTH PROBLEM

What is the biggest problem of American youth today? It is simply finding a job, says Charles L. Mosher of the New York State department of education.

"Youth, skilled or unskilled, trained or untrained, graduate or non-graduate, is willing and anxious to work but can find nothing to do. Youth has been caught on the one hand by scarcity of work and pressure to save jobs for adults, and on the other by the lowered capacity of parents to furnish support."

The experience of foreign countries, especially Germany and Italy, shows how dangerous it is to leave this problem unsolved. Allowed to drift, it may create a situation worse than idleness.

Everyone who has any sort of business or activity to perform, suggests Mr. Mosher, should give the right boy or girl a chance. The schools must do their part. There should be school employment offices everywhere in touch with state and federal offices.

It is sound advice. And it is unwise to fear that too many young people may be employed—as if there were just so much work to do in the world, and when available places were filled there would be no more. The fact is that work breeds work. Taking the community or country as a whole, the more people go to work, thereby producing and earning and spending, the more work they make for other people.

GRASS AGAIN.

The "dust bowl" is not dusty now. From every section of it come reports of rainfall, of crops thriving and of grass lands reviving. The complete disaster that threatened the region is averted for the present and, if the conservation work already begun is continued, may not even come with another serious drought cycle.

In some places special grasses have been planted. In others the native grass has been encouraged. In a section of Montana, for example, where there had been practically no vegetation for twenty successive years and many rangers believed the native grass roots had died, more wild hay has been cut this summer than since 1927.

It is feared that the thrill of 1938's successful crops will lead, or mislead, many farmers to abandon the anti-erosion work started during the drought years and put again into wheat the acres now being used to "tie down the soil." Doubtless there will be some reversion to the reckless farming that destroyed soil and exposed the land to the full force of the drought.

Not all the education and effective conservation work will be lost, however. America has surely salvaged from the suffering of the dust bowl a better understanding of the causes and the means, not to prevent drought, but to avoid its most serious consequences.

MUSIC CURE.

The power of music as a harmonizer and healer is emphasized by Benedict Fitzgerald, superintendent of music in the schools of Cambridge, Mass. Group singing, he says, puts individuals into such a receptive state of mind that they become much more cooperative than usual.

"This is one reason," he

WELL, THAT'S GOOD NEWS!A PREMIER'S TROUBLES.

A premier's life is not a happy one in these times, unless he really enjoys trouble. Neville Chamberlain and Edouard Daladier recently cut short their vacations and returned to their respective offices in London and Paris to face a batch of new worries and the familiar assortment of chronic problems.

The current "incident" between Russia and Japan has not followed the course of skirmishes of recent years at other points along the Russian border. And incidents nowadays have a fearful way of becoming prolonged, though undeclared, wars.

The presence of Lord Runciman in Prague has not yet produced any improvement in the German-Czech situation. Generalissimo Franco delays his reply to France and England on their proposition for withdrawal of foreign troops from Spain, while the French people grow more impatient in their demand that the Pyrenees be opened for transportation of supplies to Spanish Loyalists. Conditions remain hot in Palestine.

A wrong move in any of these complicated matters might very well precipitate a general war. The men who are expected to make the right moves are human and fallible, like other men. These August days, more dreaded in modern Europe than were the Ides of March by Julius Caesar, may be vacation days for some people, but not for the men at the top who are for the present the guardians of our civilization.

adds, "why music is becoming more and more important in the treatment of the mentally ill." He tells of experiments with classical music on the inmates of a state hospital for the insane. On nights when the music was played, the patients were much quieter and slept an hour longer than they did on other nights.

It is not really a new discovery, he says. The ancient Arabs and Persians are said to have used music for its curative powers. The Etruscans of Italy did nearly everything to a musical accompaniment. He cites as examples of making work easier, the song of the Volga boatmen and the work-songs of our southern negroes.

The difference between "classical" music and recent jazz or swing music, in its mental and emotional effects, will not be overlooked by thoughtful people. Irregular and barbaric noises and rhythms seem to hurt nerves and minds as much as music with form and order helps them.

MORE THAN TWENTY THOUSAND PERSONS LICENSED PILOTS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—(AP)—The Bureau of Air Commerce reports 20,076 men and women hold pilot licenses and 9,732 aircraft are certified in the United States.

The bureau added 1,299 aircraft have been recorded but have not obtained certificates. They bear identification marks only.

The pilots included 1,149 with airline certificates; 6,556 commercial; 981 limited commercial; 9,352 private; 478 amateurs who obtained ratings prior to November 1, 1937, when such ratings were discontinued, and 1,560 with solo licenses.

The bureau said the pilots included 543 women, namely, 72 with commercial; 26 with limited commercial licenses; 354 private pilots, 41 amateurs and 51 solo flyers.

The bureau's report by states showed that on July 1, Texas had 575 planes, 470 of them certificated, and 581 pilots.

The state's pilots included 112 airline; 390 commercial; 27 limited commercial; 316 private; 23 amateurs, and 13 solo flyers.

Of Interest to Voters
Of Navarro County

Since most of you have heard my opponent boast of the highway, which he obtained for the town of Kerens at his own expense, the following letter should be of interest to you.

JULIUS J. KELT,
For Re-election Second Term.

The State of Texas
STATE HIGHWAY
DEPARTMENT
Austin
August 2, 1938.

Honorable
State Representative,
Chattfield, Texas.

Dear Mr. Kelt:
Will you tell me (1) who was responsible for getting the designation of said road and did Mr. Taylor have anything to do with same; (2) did Mr. Taylor have anything to do with getting the application for this road; (3) did Mr. Taylor have anything to do with getting the contract awarded?

The official records of the Department show that this matter was first presented to the State Highway Commission on September 20, 1932 by Henry Ross, of the Kerens Chamber of Commerce, and C. J. Hall. Subsequent to the appearance, additional appearances were made as follows:

10-25-1932—C. J. Hall,
Henry Ross
Dr. J. C. Blair.
2-8-1933—Dr. Blair,
Henry Ross,
8-14-1933—J. N. Edens
Guy Gibson
A. F. Mitchell
Wm. O. Harwell,
Ted B. Ferguson,
Corsicana.
3-13-1934—Dr. J. C. Blair,
Harwell, Blair,
5-14-1935—Dr. J. C. Blair,
James Taylor,
6-22-1937—Dr. J. C. Blair
6-22-1937—A. L. Bain,
Joe Shepherd,
Hal C. Johnson
L. R. Carroll.

You will note from the above that Mr. Taylor appeared only once, on May 14, 1935, at which time no action was taken on the proposed designation.

The records of the Department show that a State Highway was designated from Kerens South to State Highway No. 22 on January 18, 1937, and on June 22, 1937 a minute was passed ordering that a plot be placed on the 1938 Farm to Market Program for the completion of Grading and Drainage Structures on the road South of Kerens to State Highway No. 22. Bids on this project were received on July 15, 1938.

I trust this is the information desired.

Sincerely yours,
JULIAN MONTGOMERY,
State Highway Engineer,

MINISTER GIVEN LIFE SENTENCE FOR MURDER OF GIRL

MANDAN, N. D., Aug. 19.—(AP)—The Rev. Heio Janssen, Evangelical Lutheran pastor at Krem, began a life prison sentence today for the murder of a girl.

The minister, 51, admitted he killed Anna Kruckenberg, because she was pregnant. District Judge H. L. Berry sentenced Janssen at a special court session shortly after midnight. He was taken immediately to the state penitentiary.

The arraignment followed swiftly after Janssen signed a confession before state's attorney, Floyd Sperry of Mercer county, admitting he perpetrated the crime Monday and burned his room house that night.

"The devil overcame me," the pastor said impassively. "I did wrong. I have a very good Christian wife and two boys any father would be proud of and I feel only too sorry that I bring such grief to them."

Feeling ran so high in the community that trial was ordered immediately.

Confederate Veteran Will Vote Once More

TENNYSON, Coke County, Aug. 19.—(AP)—Willie Murphy, 94-year-old confederate veteran, plans to repeat his July primary vote in the August runoff, but said he had forgotten the number of Texas governors he had voted for.

He was born at Sparta, La., and enlisted in the confederate army at Grapevine, Texas, in 1862, becoming a horseholder for Gen. John Morgan. Among his recollections of the great conflict is aiding in the capture of 2,200 union soldiers, but later was captured himself and held 18 months in a northern prison camp. After being released he returned to Texas—afloat.

The next meeting is to be held the first Tuesday in September at 4 o'clock at the high school, which is the regular meeting date.

Grayson Cotton Estimate.
SHERMAN, Aug. 19.—(AP)—V. O. Teddlie, Grayson county agent, estimates 30,000 bales of cotton will be produced this year from 80,000 acres. Last year's crop in Grayson county was 60,000 bales from approximately 121,000 acres.

MILAM COUNTY MAN BEST EXAMPLE OF FSA REHABILITATION

COLLEGE STATION, Aug. 19.—(AP)—In 1937, Chester Keeton, 42, moved to a Milam county farm with only his household goods, seven chickens and sixty-five cents in cash. His success was chosen as the best example of rural rehabilitation as reflected in stories submitted by county supervisors at their annual conference at Texas A. and M. College early this month.

The four best stories typifying the FSA program in the county were those of Olen L. Birdwell of Fannin county; Fred Pearson, negro, of Limestone county; and Ayers A. Cox of Haskell county.

Keeton obtained a FSA loan of $335 in 1937 to make his start and repaid $195 that year. Another loan of $407 was made to him in 1938. Approximately one-half of both loans was spent for implements, reproductive livestock and other capital goods.

At present, Keeton has a herd of 400 longhorn cows and calves, three brood mares, one colt, one cow and calf, two brood sows, one litter of five pigs, implements, canned food and feed are estimated to be worth $1,500 more than his indebtedness.

The only security Olen Birdwell had to offer was his ability to work and his hands. His first loan was for $553 in 1936 with additional loans of $106 in 1937 and $81 in 1938. Of the total, $154 has been repaid. The value of his improvements now securing the remaining debt has been appraised at $789.

Fred Pearson, negro, was left without resources when his land was sold to pay taxes. He secured the remaining debt has been appraised at $789.

Ayers Cox started in 1936 with a net worth of $4 and has secured the provisions of the Bankhead-Jones farm tenant act, this year became the owner of the farm he had been renting. He now has a net worth of $8,000. He recently purchased farm, of $1,044.

THREE MAT BOUTS THURSDAY NIGHT DREW LARGE CROWD

The bill offered local wrestling fans by Promoter Talmer Jones Thursday night was such as to draw a packed arena, with every available seat taken and many utilizing standing room. The fans were disappointed that the bouts were regaled with three interesting and exciting matches. Another new referee, Charlie Wright kept partial peace in the ring and made a good impression.

The main event brought two of the most villainous of matmen to show in this territory together, Bunney Martin and Blacksmith Smith, both heavies and both roundly "hated" by local fans. The match ended in a draw, with Smith winning the first fall and Martin taking the second. They wrestled the remainder of the time without a third fall, using most every kind of rough wrestling tactics to keep the fans interested.

The most interesting match of the evening saw Joe Porelli and Jack Bloomfield as opponents. Bloomfield is an especial local favorite and Porelli made a most favorable impression against Bunney Martin last week. Porelli won the match, knocking out the three falls. He plumed Bloomfield after some surprisingly rough tactics for these mat artists and Bloomfield evened the match with head scissors flo-over. Porelli took the third fall when Bloomfield essayed the same hold and lost it and found himself quickly pinned.

Johnny LaRue and Wildcat Johnson went 20 minutes to a draw in the curtain raised. This match was also rough and tough and was an excellent opener for the main features.

AGED HILL COUNTY WOMAN PASSED AWAY BRANDON THURSDAY

HILLSBORO, Aug. 19.—Mrs. Lizzie Finch, aged 87 years, widow of the late Dr. R. K. Finch, pioneer Hill county resident, died Thursday afternoon at her home in Brandon.

Funeral rites were conducted Friday afternoon from the Brandon Baptist church.

A native of Mississippi, Mrs. Finch came to Texas in 1867 and located at Brandon where she has resided since.

Surviving are four sons, L. B. Finch, Mexia; John Finch, Mertens; William Finch, Wortham; Rhus Finch, Richardson; three daughters, Mrs. Mary Moore, Dallas; Mrs. Martha Fox, Seagraves, and Mrs. Elizabeth Mayfield, Waco; 23 grandchildren and 25 great-grandchildren.

MATERIAL UNLOADED FOR IMPROVEMENT OF STATE HIGHWAY 31

DAWSON, Aug. 19.—(AP)—A large quantity of gravel is being unloaded and hauled out on Highway 31 east of Dawson and it is understood here that the road from the Purcell slab to the Hill county line will be improved.

Highway officials recently said the 7-mile stretch of Purcell slab would be widened and topped during the summer. A large amount of materials have been placed on the site but the actual work has not been reported started.

A new bridge spanning Richland creek on this highway has been completed.

Revised Schedule County Series Was Announced Friday

A change was effected in the play-off schedule of the senior division of the Navarro County Baseball league by agreement of the managers of the three interested ball clubs, C. F. Broughton, secretary-stationer, stated Friday.

Corsicana Cotton Mills last week and eliminated the Hazette nine and is one of the final clubs of the senior division. Emhouse and Montfort divided their games last week-end.

The third and deciding game of the Emhouse-Montfort hostilities is to be played Saturday afternoon at Magnolia Field here.

The final series of the senior circuit will get under way Sunday afternoon between the Millers and the winner of Saturday afternoon's tussle. The second and third games of this series will be played August 27 and 28.

Rural Shunde and Roane will play a series this week end to determine the other finalist club to meet the survivor of the Mill-Emhouse-Montfort triangle for the county league title. The titular series will be staged in the week end of Labor Day, the first week end in September, Broughton pointed out.

TEXAS ALLOWABLE FOR SEPTEMBER IS HIKED 20,000 BBLs.

STATEWIDE SUNDAY SHUT-DOWN EXPECTED BE CONTINUED INDEFINITELY

AUSTIN, Aug. 19.—(AP)—The United States Bureau of Mines recommended today that Texas oil production next month be 1,398,600 barrels daily, an increase of 20,800 over its recommendation for August.

The bureau's figure was received at the monthly production hearing conducted by the state railroad commission, the briefest hearing in months.

Indications were that statewide Sunday production shutdowns, effective since January 15, would be continued indefinitely. Chairman C. V. Terrell of the commission said that even with the Sunday closings average daily production from August 1 to August 18 was 1,413,736 barrels.

There was some talk of adding days to the shutdown period. R. H. Foster of Fort Worth, representing the Landreth Production Company, suggested that "we go back to Saturday shutdowns until oil is plentiful and pipeline promotion is ended."

Bottomhole Pressure Drops. Commission engineers reported that average bottomhole pressure in the East Texas field dropped 3.31 pounds between July 8 and August 8. The new figure was 112.64. The average daily allowable production for that period was 430,549 barrels.

Charles L. Black, attorney for the Ohio Oil Company, introduced testimony intended to show that physical waste could be prevented by boosting the Yates field production allowance.

Under questioning by Black, Peter P. Gregory, engineer who has studied conditions in the field, said reduction of the allowable from 35,000 to 18,750 barrels daily had raised the gas-oil ratio and reservoir displacement and lowered the lifting efficiency.

Want Cuyaga Cut. J. R. Gahan, representing the Tidewater Company, which purchases Cuyaga field production, requested that the allowable for that field be cut from 10,633 to 7,000 barrels daily because of declining markets.

J. A. Burke of Corsicana, spokesman for Cuyaga independent operators, opposed the request. He contended such a reduction would cause physical waste. The matter was set for special hearing August 30.

Harold Neely, representing West Central Texas operators, said they were well satisfied with the present proration policy and wanted it continued.

At the request of Senator Clint C. Small, the commission called a hearing next Wednesday on whether allowables of certain gas wells in the Sanford area of the Panhandle should be changed.

Bureau of Mines September Estimate

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—(AP)—The bureau of mines estimated today the September market demand for domestic crude oil at 3,444,000 barrels daily.

This was 6,200 barrels higher than the August estimate, 221,700 barrels less than the daily average production last September and 7 per cent less than the demand for domestic crude that month.

Domestic motor fuel demand during September, the bureau estimated, would total 47,000,000 barrels, or 0.5 per cent less than the actual demand last September.

Daily average crude oil production and runs to still from July 2 to July 30, the bureau reported, averaged 3,334,000 barrels and 3,200,000 barrels, respectively. During the period, foreign stocks increased 22,000 barrels, making a decline in domestic grades of 3,121,000 barrels or 111,000 barrels daily.

Motor fuel exports were estimated at 4,400,000 barrels, 100,000 barrels less than was estimated for August and 56,000 barrels less than the actual exports for September, 1937.

Estimated daily average crude oil demand by states included:

Texas	1,377,800	Sept.

British Troops And Arabs Fight On Sharon Plain

JERUSALEM, Aug. 19.—(AP)—A fresh battle between British and Arab troops broke out today on the Sharon plain, a few miles from the city of Jerusalem.

The fighting was the heaviest since the British took the city of Jerusalem in 1917. It was the first time since then that British and Arab troops had fought in the area.

The British government today informed Germany that it "takes a serious view" of the unexplained arrest of Captain Thomas Kenrick, British passport officer in Vienna, by German secret police at the German-Swiss border.

On instructions from the London foreign office, Sir Neville Henderson, ambassador to Germany, has asked the German government for a full and speedy explanation of the arrest of Kenrick.

The British official was taken by the Gestapo Wednesday as he was about to leave Germany on vacation. She was permitted to return to her home in Vienna.

Yesterday Henderson asked the German foreign office for a full and speedy explanation of the arrest of Kenrick and was promised that a full inquiry would be made.

However, no further reply has been received from Berlin. The ambassador's earlier report of the arrest was rushed to Viscount Halifax, foreign secretary, at his Yorkshire home, by special messenger.

British officials said they hoped Henderson's representations, which included the statement of London's "serious view," would lead to Kenrick's early release.

Believed Still Held. Kenrick, who has been passport officer in Vienna for 13 years, was believed still held in the Hotel Metropole, secret police headquarters, in that city.

British office circles here there was some speculation as to whether Kenrick might have been arrested because he granted more British visas to Austrian Jews than German government considered discreet.

The British government also pressed Italy for information on allegations made in the London press and in the house of commons that the Italian Premier Mussolini was sending new reinforcements and war materials to the Spanish insurgents.

This represented an about-face by Britain. Five days ago the British charge d'affaires in Rome, Sir Noel Charles, drew attention to these allegations in a call on Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano. Subsequently, however, London's official press said Britain did not necessarily expect to get a reply from Ciano.

But today informed persons said that Charles was instructed to see the Italian foreign minister again and tell him that Britain definitely expects a reply. Charles did this yesterday.

The Kenrick arrest caused a sensation in London government circles.

Recent Bride Is Honoree of Shower In Kerens Wednesday

KERENS, Aug. 19.—(Sp.)—Mrs. Duke Owen of Wichita Falls, who was prior to her marriage, Miss Fannie Virginia Noble of Kerens, was honored with a miscellaneous shower on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. L. Whorton, A. B. Keen, E. M. Westbrock, W. B. Talley, Andrew Talley, J. B. Smith, Wade Price, C. H. Sanders, and Misses Zena and passed to the receiving tresses.

The Ivey home was lovely with a colorful red and white color scheme and var-colored dinnies and other late summer flowers in the living and bed rooms.

Guests were greeted by Mrs. Ivey and passed to the receiving line whose personnel included Mrs. Owen, Mrs. A. B. Keen, Mrs. W. M. Fuller, Mrs. T. L. Whorton, Mrs. Edna Keithley of Corsicana, and Miss Maurine Sherrill.

Mrs. E. M. Westbrock and Mrs. Alvin Immon served iced punch and cakes the first hour, while Mrs. Andrew Talley and Mrs. J. E. Smith officiated from 6 to 7. Mrs. LeRoy Mills was in charge of the guests book in which about 90 persons registered.

Music was enjoyed from the following Kerens artists during the afternoon: Mrs. R. H. Mays, Mrs. Wade Price, Miss Katherine Ivey, piano and violinists and Mrs. Mays, Miss Lilla May Cheek, and Darrell Mabry who gave vocal numbers.

An unusual number of varied and lovely gifts were admired by the many friends and well wishers of this popular young bride, who is the daughter of Ray Noble, and granddaughter of L. A. Noble.

Outstanding guests were Mrs. Edna Keithley of Corsicana, and Mrs. Curtis Merrill of Corsicana, aunts and cousins of Mrs. Owens.

Lawn Party

KERENS, Aug. 19.—(Sp.)—Another lawn party was enjoyed by the peppy young eight- to ten-aged boys and girls, when Annie B. Ford, and Jacqueline Reece entertained about 30 guests from the former, Tuesday from 7 to 9:30 p.m.

About 30 guests were present and took part in the ever popular games of murder, wink, clap-in, clap-out, drop the handkerchief and tag. A delicious lunch was the crowning event of a delightful occasion.

Just before the hour of departure sandwiches, punch and cake were served.

Kerens Personal Mention. KERENS, Aug. 19.—(Sp.)—Miss Dorothy Joe Everheart has as her guest this week, Miss Georgiana Wyndham of North Texas.

Among those from Kerens in Corsicana for the funeral of P. D. Fullwood, Tuesday afternoon were Earl and Mrs. W. T. Stockton and Earl Steele.

REP. O'CONNOR OF NEW YORK PICKS UP GAGE OF BATTLE IN ROOSEVELT POLITICAL "PURGE"

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—(AP)—Rep. John J. O'Connor, (D-N.Y.) has picked up "the gage of battle" in the political "purge" which he pledges himself to fight the administration "purge" which he calls "an escalator to dictatorship."

"Let's have it out," he said in a broadcast address last night. "If the people of the United States desire to extend an invitation to a dictatorship, we would know about it just as speedily as possible."

His speech was a reply to the statement of President Roosevelt early in the week calling for O'Connor's defeat in the September primary election. O'Connor, seeking renomination for a ninth year in the democratic and republican tickets will be opposed in the democratic primary by a "100 per cent new dealer," James H. Fay, deputy collector of internal revenue.

"It is not the challenge to me personally that matters," O'Connor said. "The President's attack on me and other members of congress is a challenge to America and its present form of government."

"The repeated disavowal of any desire to become a dictator cannot be taken at full faith when actions evidence the contrary," he said.

"No 'dictator' in Europe would for one moment admit he is a dictator," he said. "The house of democracy and x x they all claim to be supported by a 'mandate from the people'."

His dramatic expression is a successor to "by divine right."

The November election appears to be the only possibility of making a material reduction in the President's senate strength. The same group of the senate, however, where an overwhelming majority of members—whether they are for or against the administration—have won renomination.

Whatsoever the results of his denunciation of Senators George of Georgia and Tydings of Maryland, the alignment of pro and anti-administration democrats in the senate next year will be little changed.

Victories for the new deal appointees of George and Tydings would give the administration two more votes. But any effort to elect Senator Pope of Idaho, has been defeated for renomination by a self-styled conservative democrat.

Sizeable Republicans gains in the November election appear to be the only possibility of making a material reduction in the President's senate strength. TWO CONGRESSMEN GAVE COMMUNISTIC SALUTE TO YOUTHS

MORE INTERESTING TESTIMONY HEARD BY UN-AMERICAN PROBERS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—(AP)—A witness told a house committee today that Representatives O'Connell (D-Mont) and Bernard (R-Minn) gave the "regular communistic salute" after addressing several hundred American youths fighting in Spain.

Alvin L. Halpern, who told the committee investigating un-American activities yesterday about his experiences in the Spanish loyalist army, said the house members spoke at the dedication pillars at a hospital at Benicassim, Spain.

"They told us we were fighting for a great cause—democracy—to wipe out fascism," Halpern said. "They gave the regular Soviet salute—clenched fist in up-right position."

"They told us if we wanted anything after we returned to our country to let them know we were Americans," he said.

The committee later unanimously ordered transmission to the justice department of the testimony of the American volunteers from the Spanish government army for determination of whether federal law was being violated by communist agents recruiting volunteers here for the Spanish conflict.

Took Them Up. "Rep. Mosler (D-Ohio) asked the witnesses whether they took up O'Connell and Bernard on their offer of assistance."

"Oh, yes," replied Halpern, with a laugh, "we asked for about 5,000 names for over here."

Halpern and Sobel also were questioned by Starnes regarding their testimony yesterday that between 1,600 and 1,700 Americans were "virtually prisoners" in Spain.

Miss Margaret Kerr, official of the Better American Federation of California, returning to the witness stand, said that in Los Angeles she had seen the same persons at meetings of the American League for Peace and Democracy and the Communist Party.

Miss Kerr told of attending communist meetings in Los Angeles and asserted that Clarence Hathaway, editor of the Daily Worker, at one meeting "stressed the comparison" of the Soviet and United States constitutions.

He said that the Soviet constitution not only guaranteed freedom of freedom of the press and freedom of religion, which drew the applause of the evening," Miss Kerr declared.

The committee also summoned New York theatrical workers to testify about a charge of Rep. Thomas (N-J) that the WPA's federal theater project is a "hot bed of communism."

Mrs. Hazel Huffman, speaking for a committee of theatrical workers on relief, told the committee that WPA's federal theater project was being used to spread communist propaganda in New York.

She said the workers, who she described as closely allied with the communist party, "now dominates" the theater project.

Two Convicted Murderers Pay In Chair Friday

HUNTSVILLE, Aug. 19.—(AP)—Two convicted murderers were hanged today at the state penitentiary early today, one of them in bewildered silence and the other singing a little song "To The Sweetest Girl in San Antonio."

Collan H. Morgan of El Paso who killed his wife during a card game, went first, being strapped into the chair at 12:03 a. m. He merely shook his head when Warden W. W. Wald asked him if he had anything to say.

Jesse Polanco, who killed George Forbes, a bus driver in a holdup, went to the chair at 12:12 a. m. He was almost jaunty as he came into the death room. He had no statement to make but asked only that he sing the song he composed while on death row.

Carlos Fernandez, was scheduled to die with Morgan and Polanco in Governor James V. Allred granted him a 30-day reprieve. He was convicted of slaying John Stowe, a policeman in a San Antonio bar.
